Artist co-op is an artistic success story

By JACQUELINE ROSS HOWE

About a dozen local artists are successfully blending their artistic abilities with good business at Del Mar's Art Garden Gallery. The gallery is run on a cooperative basis, which means that each artist not only shows works, but also spends time operating the gallery.

The gallery is demonstrating its success both in its longevity, six years (a relatively long time for a co-op), and in the quality of artists involved.

Currently involved in the Art Garden Gallery are Karen

Moreland, Encinitas, stained glass; Dale McLeod, Leucadia, silkscreen work, and his wife, Christin, watercolor and drawings; Lucia Boyce, Cardiff-by-the-Sea, batik and silkscreen work; Mary Hale, Cardiff, fabric applique; Duliese Myers, Del Mar, basket and sculpture weaving, using material found locally; Chris Roberts, Solana Beach, a weaver of wall hangings and "spirit dolls;" Nancy Rupp, Encinitas, Chinese brush painting; Erika Torri, Leucadia, miniature weaving of fine materials, such as silk, backed with lu-
