

The Offtrack Gallery is the cooperative effort of ten local artists with varied backgrounds, interests and disciplines. The group is founded on the premise that art and artists should be a positive and integral part of the community. To that end we have established the gallery not only to exhibit and sell our work but to create a two-way communication with you, our audience. The gallery is run entirely by the membership, allowing you personal contact and interaction with us. In addition we hold occasional workshops and regular monthly demonstrations.

We are:

Lucia M. Barekley is a multi-media artist currently involved in paper making. She also continues to create a limited number of non-traditional batik wearables.

Nancy Rupp derives inspiration for her oriental brush painting from California flora and personal fauna. She has been selected for a 2 month study program this summer at the Zhejiang Fine Art Academy in China which will surely precipitate exciting new work upon her return.

Nancy Gordon's porcelain is functional and sculptural, combining thrown and hand built forms and various firing techniques. She holds a grant from the California Arts Council and serves as artist in residence for the Chula Vista Schools.

Dona Hutchins does wax resist batik on fabrics and oriental paper. Her distinctive style and choice of familiar natural subjects are trademarks of her work.

Britta Kling often sketches local plants for her scherenschnitte, German scissor cuttings. Her works are contemporary interpretations of that Old World Folk Art.

Georgia K. Laris has developed a knotted tapestry technique with three dimensional applications. She uses wearability as a design cue in her current series of pieces. She is a member of the art faculty at Mesa College.

Will Gibson's most recent photographs have been large format landscapes in both color and black and white. He operates a photography studio in San Marcos.

Gwenn Truax has been a potter for 15 years. She is an instructor at UCSD's center for contemporary crafts. Her functional stoneware is enhanced by sgraffito designs scratched through colored engobes.

Anki Vinberg is a weaver who has developed a personal style from her background of traditional Swedish weaving. Utilizing natural fibers, she creates both clothing and wall pieces.

Mark Vranesh's baskets are constructed from all natural materials. His framed works include embossed etchings and watercolors. Most of his themes are local scenes or buildings.

Second Annual Collaboration Show

May 5 through 31, 1984

Reception Saturday, May 5, 4-6 p.m.

Last spring when we presented our First Collaboration Show, we discovered new dimensions to our artistic expressions individually and collectively. Whether or not we incorporated those discoveries in our ongoing work we came back to our individual studios refreshed and stimulated.

Inspired by the enthusiastic response to last year's show, we feel this year's event promises to be an even deeper exploration of this collaborative spirit.

Please join us in sharing our discovery of new and different art forms as we blend our disciplines for this second annual show.

JUNE ART DOINGS

Gene Belbey, artist and teacher, is the featured artist for the month of June at the San Dieguito Art Gallery at 1038 B Highway 101 in Leucadia. Belbey holds many awards for his compositions in oil and watercolor.

He spent much time at the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C. where he reproduced many paintings of the old masters such as Goya and Renoir. He says that painting from the old masters' works helped his own compositions and made him feel like a kindred spirit. You still have several days to catch this fresh, exciting show — it closes on June 30. For more information, call 753-8368.

Next month at the gallery, a special art exhibit is planned to recognize charter members of the Western Pastel Society, celebrating its first year throughout July. The show features work by Joan Grine, past president; Else Goss, incoming president; and members Jean Razovsky, Marron McDowell, Loretta Phoenix, Marge Lewis, Jean Kielson, Betty Sturdevan, and many others. You're invited, San Dieguito, to view this show and other work by guild members who paint in watercolor, oil and mixed media.

The gallery is open Tuesday through Sunday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Anyone interested in becoming a member of the San Dieguito Art Guild or the Western Pastel Society may call 753-8368 for information.

Members of the San Dieguito Art Guild will be displaying and selling art in many different media at discount prices. Summer is the ideal time to pick up some of your best art inexpensively, meeting the artists at the same time.

You'll see the work of Gene Belby, an artist-teacher who paints in the style of the old masters. Belby studied at the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C. where he reproduced many paintings of Goya, Renoir and others. The Western Pastel Society will also be represented at this exciting Cardiff Mall show with artist and past president Joan Grine, Loretta Phoenix, Mickey Woolman, Doris Thompson, Tom Judson, Miriam Guberek, Jackie Perrault, Bonnie Park, Diane Gongales, and Pat Watkins on hand with their work. Several of these artists will be featuring watercolor, oils, and acrylics as well as pastels.

Members of the San Dieguito Art Guild, from left to right, Doris Thompson, Loretta Phoenix, Bonny Park and Beverly Doerfler, present some of the works for sale this weekend during the guild's annual 'Starving Artist Festival.' Art in all mediums will be available during the two day sale from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Festival planning under way

LEUCADIA — Members of the San Dieguito Art Guild are painting and planning their annual "Starving Artist Festival" to be held Aug. 4 and 5 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at San Dieguito Gallery, 1038-B Highway 101.

Art work in all mediums will be in the price range of $35 to $1.

See President Bonnie Park's watercolors of local North County land marks. Art chairwoman Claire Fleming will show her animal and exotic bird paintings, some of which were painted at the San Diego Zoo. Betty Sturdevant will display paintings of furry cats with big expressive eyes. Artist Margo Lewis will show landscapes and acrylic abstract.

Art editor Vada Kimble and past president Elsie Goss will offer paintings of vibrant flowers. Mickey Woolman's love of old churches shows in her work. Loretta Phoenix's paintings will be of seascapes, deserts and people.

1038-B

Gallery 507, 507 Grand Ave. in Carlsbad, will feature Maxine Custer this month with her new paintings of patterned still life. Custer has been a member of this unique gallery since it opened in the fall of 1982. Custer is known for her colorful watermedia paintings. The public is invited to view these new works in addition to a complete new show by the other members of this co-op. Hours are 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday. For details, call 439-5943.

Original art is still one of the best investments.

To prove that buying artwork need not flatten one's wallet, members of San Dieguito Art Guild are putting on their annual Starving Artists' show and sale from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

The gallery is located at 1038-B.N. Highway 101, Leucadia and none of the work for sale will be priced over $35, with some of the offerings tagged as low as $1.

Approximately 130 members of San Dieguito Art Guild will be taking part in this year's show.

Art guild president Bonnie Park will be showing watercolors of North County landmarks, while Claire Fleming will exhibit her animal and exotic bird paintings.

Betty Sturdevan is known for her drawings of furry cats with big, expressive eyes. Marge Lewis is noted for her landscapes and more recently she has begun painting in acrylics.

Vada Kimble and Mickey Woolman

STARVING ARTIST FESTIVAL

Members of the San Dieguito Art Guild have been busy painting and planning their annual Starving Artist Festival to be held this weekend, August 4 and 5, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. You'll find art work in many different media featured at discount prices from just $1 to $35. The show will be at the San Dieguito Art Gallery, 1038b Highway 101 in Leucadia.

President Bonnie Park presents watercolors of local North County landmarks. Claire Fleming, the art chairman for the group, shows her animal and exotic bird paintings, some of which were painted at the San Diego Zoo. Betty Sturdevan is well-known for beautiful furry cats with big, expressive eyes. Artist Marge Lewis is noted for her outstanding landscapes and, more recently, she's doing acrylic abstracts.

Art editor Vada Kimble paints flowers in vibrant colors, as does past president Elsie Goss. Mickey Woolman loves old churches and has searched them out from all parts of the country. Loretta Phoenix loves to paint, whether her subject be a seascape, desert, or people.

You'll see works by all of these artists and many more at the 130-member art show under the auspices of the San Dieguito Art Guild.

Loretta Phoenix works on pastel of a peacock for the upcoming art show.

Refreshments, including giant hot dogs, will be available.
