UCSD Grove Gallery

This gallery, tucked away on the university campus, has some wonderful crafts, especially in the glass and ceramic media. The finest of new works in hot and cold art glass currently can be found here including pieces by Steve Correia, James Hubbell, Val Sanders and Leslie Perlis. Vases, fused bowls, leaded windows, hanging wall pieces and plates are among the objects featured along with some esoterica such as glass bananas, which make great paperweights. In the ceramics category there are whimsical three-legged cups by Ron Carlson, sushi plates by Ellen Fager, bottles by Jeannette Brent and raku pieces by Richard Meyer and Minako Lee. The gallery will have a special ceramics sale Dec. 2 in glass, there is work by Anne Robinson, Gary Nash and John Croucher. Baskets by Michael Bailot and Shirley Bahansen and wood sculptures — brightly painted and in a lyrical mood — also are featured.

- Hours: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday-Saturday; 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Offtrack Gallery

Original art and contemporary crafts downstairs at the Pannikin inside an old train station in Encinitas. You can shop cozy here and also sometimes very inexpensively. The gallery is a cooperative with a membership of about a dozen artists and crafts people who regularly have their work exhibited and get a bit more in the "Christmasy" tone for an annual holiday show, this year set for Nov. 23-Dec. 24. The regular fare includes weavings by Anki Vinberg, air-brushed and hand-painted clothing by Rose Daley, raku pottery by Mike McClure and porcelain by Nancy Gordon.

- Location: 510 North Highway 101, Encinitas.
- Hours: 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday-Sunday.

Gallery Shop at Bazaar del Mundo

No, no, it's not all ethnic. There are some exquisite contemporary jewelry pieces to be found here, including those by San Diego artist Del Castillo who uses precious metals such as gold and silver with luminescent opals and other stones. In a more whimsical mood are fantasy necklaces by Leigh Saunders in papier-mache and porcelain that are inspired by carousel animals and various other fanciful creatures. Beadwork by Pat Smiley and enamels and cloisonne by Kay Whitcomb also can be found at the gallery shop.

PRESS RELEASE-ART SHOW AND SALE

The San Dieguito Art Guild will host its most prestigious art show, The Cash Award Holiday Show, from Nov. 1 through Dec. 31. The show will hang two months in order to provide the public with a source of fantastic Christmas gift ideas. Members of the guild will compete for cash awards in water media, oil and acrylics, and mixed media. In addition, a mini show of small sized works will be on display. Susan Jenkins, an instructor of oil painting at Santa Barbara Art School, will act as show judge. Susan will also give a painting demonstration at Quail Gardens on Nov. 7th at 1:30p.m.

The Guild invites the public to our grand holiday reception featuring marvelous refreshments and very artistic company. This reception will take place Saturday, November 12, from 10-4p.m, with the artists awards ceremony at 3p.m. Take a chance on being the lucky winner of a raffled painting donated by long time oil and pastel painter, Joan Grine, and cast your vote for "best liked painting" of show. If you can't make this extravaganza then drop in at leisure until Christmas and share coffee and cookies that will be provided to our great customers.

The San Dieguito Art Guild has been a familiar gallery along HWY 101 in Leucadia to local residents for many years. President, Tom Brochu said, "Just because we're long-term doesn't mean we're old-fashioned. We continue to update and attract strong painters from north county. Many of these painters have won high honors at the Del Mar Fair, San Diego Art Institute, Carlsbad Armory, and C.O.A.L. Shows. The public needs to know that we have five display rooms of original art by dedicated artists. Stop in any time Tuesday through Sunday, but of highest importance, come help us celebrate our Holiday Art Show."
